

THE SILLIEST STORY I HAVE EVER WRITTEN

If Alma does not eat dinner today, she will make popcorn.

If Alma makes popcorn, she will watch a movie.

If Alma watches a movie, she will go to bed late.

If Alma goes to bed late, she will not have enough energy to study in the morning.

If Alma does not have enough energy to study in the morning, she will eat a lot of sweets and unhealthy food.

If Alma eats a lot of sweets and unhealthy food, she will become overweight.

If Alma becomes overweight, she will not do karate anymore.

If Alma does not do karate anymore, she will be sad.

If Alma is sad, she will eat too much food.

If Alma eats too much food, she will become even more obese.

If Alma becomes even more obese, she will not be able to move.

If Alma can not move, she will be angry at herself.

If Alma is angry at herself, she will try to make things better.

If Alma tries to make things better, she will start to lose weight.

If Alma starts to lose weight, she will go to The Biggest Loser Slovenija show.

If Alma goes to The Biggest Loser Slovenija show, she will win.

If Alma wins, she will get 50.000€.

If Alma gets 50.000€, she will give some money to poor people.

If Alma gives some money to poor people, she will feel good about what she did.

If Alma feels good about what she did, this will be a happy end.

If this is a happy end, people who read this will feel happy.

And if these people feel happy, that means they will spread their happiness!
