

GOING ABROAD

I'm going to spend a month in Canada. I think it'll be really interesting and I'll probably have a lot of fun. I might feel homesick, but I'm happy that I decided to go to Canada. I'm going to Canada tomorrow. I'm going to catch the plane at Brnik airport and then I'm going to fly across the Atlantic ocean and the plane will land in Toronto. I'm going to spend a week in Toronto. There I'll visit the aquarium, St. Lawrence market and I might go to Toronto Island park and to NC Tower. Next week I'm going to travel to Ottawa. I'm going to go there by train. There I'll visit the parliament, the museum and if I-have enough time I'll visit a gallery. During the last week of my holiday I'm going to travel around Canada by train. I'll probably go hiking. After three weeks I'm going to go home by plane.
